

! SecureAware® Policy

- Is word processors inadequate when mapping your policies against different standards, and when targeting different user groups?
- Do you require full or partial compliance with good business practices or information security standards and IT governance? (e.g. ISO27000 or PCI DSS)
- Do your information security policies require regular updating?

SecureAware Policy enables companies to establish and maintain information security policies and relating documentation. Containing a selection of time-saving templates, SecureAware Policy provides a wealth of useful suggestions to anyone creating or updating company policies. It provides you with structures for policies, rules and procedures – all of which are linked to the most commonly followed compliance standards. SecureAware Policy’s document management function is compatible with all major file formats.

With SecureAware, your policy can be structured around individual target groups and can be exported to PDF, RTF and XML.

Together with the other SecureAware products, you have a complete and flexible ISMS (Information Security Management System) in one
